Checklist for your pet's full body health

You can be your pet's health manager too by doing the following basic checks at home regularly!

- Ears : Clean without bad odour, excessive wax or redness
- Eye: Bright and clear, no redness, cloudiness or watery
- Mouth: No bad breath, swollen gum or discoloured teeth
- Skin & Coat: Shiny and smooth, no red/ flaky and dry skin, no lumps or scabs
- Bone & Joint: Normal activity level, no trouble standing up, no limping, not hesitate to walk to go up and down the stairs.
- Weight: A visible waist or slightly tuck-in behind the ribs; ribs should be easily to feel but not to see
- Heart & Lung: No coughing, sneezing, wheezing or laboured breathing, not reluctant to exercise or play, not getting tired more easily than normal
- Digestive system: Normal appetite, no diarrhoea or vomiting, no swollen abdomen, no burping or passing gas more than usual, no sloppy stool , no trouble passing stool
- Urinary system: No accidents in the house, no urine that looks or smells different, no trouble urinating, no inability to urinate (seek vet attention immediately if you notice your pet is unable to urinate because it may mean a life-threatening blockage!)

Scheduling regular wellness visits with your veterinarian, keeping your pet's vaccination and parasite prevention up-to-date, feeding a nutritional complete diet and regular exercise will work wonders for your pet's health!
